BILLY SUNDAY WILL COME TO CHATTANOOGA

Arrangements About Complete. Will Be Here During Next January and February.

Word has been received from Billy Sunday, the well-known evangelist, closing his final engagement for a series of meetings in Chattanooga during the months of January and February, 1919. Rev. J. B. Phillips, chairman of the Billy Sunday delegation, received a letter from Mr. Sunday this past week to this effect:

As it has been settled that Mr. Sunday is to come to Chattanooga, the committee in charge is planning to start at once preparing for the big meeting.

Mr. Phillips and the members of his committee have issued a call requesting all ministers and others interested to meet at the Y. M. C. A. Monday morning at 10 o'clock for organizing for the coming campaign.

One of the points to be considered first is a central location for the big tabernacle. Several locations have been suggested, but most of those named have proven to be too small. Warner park is much favored by some, and it is thought there is enough vacant ground in the park inclosure to answer the purpose. Chamberlain field is perhaps the most suitable location, but it is understood this field would not be large enough.

People from all parts of the city can reach Warner park easily. There are street cars passing the park from Highland Park and the city at the main entrance, while at the rear entrance the East Chattanooga cars run within a block of the park. There are also fine facilities for the parking of automobiles.

Chairman Phillips, who has worked so hard to get Mr. Sunday to come to Chattanooga, feels that even though the United States is in a conflict which is taking hundreds of men away from the city, it will be the biggest meeting of its kind that Chattanooga has ever had within its gates. The preachers feel that here is a big field for Mr. Sunday's work.

It is understood that Mr. Sunday wants to hold his meetings in cities located near military cantonments, and in view of this fact he was especially anxious to come to Chattanooga. The organization in charge of the meetings will, therefore, extend a wide invitation to the United States soldiers at Camp Forrest urging them to attend as many meetings as they can.

The tabernacle to be erected is to have a seating capacity of 7,000.

Sunday at Baptist Tabernacle.

Patriotic day will be observed in the Baptist Tabernacle Sunday school July 7, the service beginning with a prayer-meeting in the lecture room at 9:30 in the morning.

The object of this occasion is, first, to celebrate the 142d anniversary of the declaration of independence, and, second, to inaugurate the Baptist Tabernacle thrift stamp drive. Last year $3,000 was borrowed to improve and enlarge the church, and instead of raising the money to pay the debt at the present, the money will be raised and invested in thrift stamps to help the government; and when the thrift stamps mature the funds will be applied against the indebtedness. Every member of the church and Sunday school is overflowing with enthusiasm and determination to "go over the top."

The service flag of more than seventy-five stars will be presented by the sisters of the men whose stars appear on the flag. The stars represent Sunday school teachers, departmental heads, organized class officers, church ushers. The roll will be called at the conclusion of every fifteen names. Taps will be blown by Bugler Erving Cook, of the quartermaster's department at Fort Oglethorpe.

Even though the government is making a heavy demand on the congregation, they are progressing nicely with a good attendance every Sunday and it is estimated that before another sixty days twenty-five more of their noble sons will have their stars placed on the Baptist Tabernacle service flag. A camp class is being organized; that is, a class will be created with a teacher to furnish our boys in the service with a book containing the Sunday school lesson for each Sunday. Write them an occasional letter and encourage them to write; in other words, have a class for the boys who have nobly gone to the front for them.

The program will be as follows:

Invocation—Rev. J. B. Phillips.

Song, "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

Announcements and birthday collection.

Song, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

Song, "Star-Spangled Banner."

Presentation of Service Flag—By sisters of enlisted men.

Song, "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name."

After the program, M. D. Ireland, direct from the trenches, will give a short talk regarding his experiences.
